

The First Men in the Moon

Mr. Bedford Meets Mr. Cavor at Lymgne
As I sit down to write here amidst the shadows of vine-leaves under the blue sky of southern Italy, it comes to me with a certain quality of astonishment that my participation in these amazing adventures of Mr. Cavor was, after all, the outcome of the purest accident. It might have been any one. I fell into these things at a time when I thought myself removed from the slightest possibility of disturbing experiences. I had gone to Lymgne because I had imagined it the most uneventful place in the world. Here, at any rate, said I, I shall find peace and a chance to work!
