

Dream, Design, Dare: Vol. 26 In The Sub 4 Minute Extra Mile Series (Volume 26)

Although everything correlates and coordinates with reasons for being, objectives, and plans with much further horizons, everything depends on our performance right here, right now. That's when consciously creating the future rather than just arriving in and responding to whatever comes takes place. And looking at the future is an interesting episode, because it allows you not only to see, not only to be inspired with the methods you need to foster the events that need to pass to create that envisioned future, but it also leaves you with an uncanny realization of how much it is we actually do control and operate our individual realities. Yes, it is a world of cause and effect. Yes, we can get conscious. Yes, a good place to start is by completing the Formula For Riches, which asks directly How much / what do you want? By when? How are you going to get it? What are your plans? These are not unnecessary questions; these are not frivolous. These are the questions of your life. You can create the life you want when you move forward on the dreams and designs of your heart... If you dare dream them and move on them. Its here and now you choose and plant the experiences of your upcoming days. This volume, like all books in the Sub 4 Minute Extra Mile Series is a collection of short, focused, intense, intended training sessions driving you to success! To whet your appetite, heres a few more training session titles inside... > Crushing It In Business With The Gladiator Mindset In Business > Quantum Science Explains It Is A Spiritual Universe > More Important Than A Stack Of Riches > The Marketing Lesson In A $129 Cup Of Coffee > Youthfulness Might Be A Better Word Than Young > And more...
