

The Immigrant

The immigrant is not just a book its a true story of a young man who left his family and his friends behind and relocated to the UK . . . I left my home in the sunshine and next morning when I woke up I found myself in the streets of London . . . After half an hour a young girl came next to me and said, Sir would you like tea, coffee, juice or Pepsi ? and I asked her What else do you have She smiled and said, Food will be served after a while As soon the doors opened the fresh and the cold air hit my face and said welcome to London Heathrow a place where dreams can come true In thousands of people nobody knows who I am? Where I came from? Why am I here I ran towards the doors and heard the another announcement, The doors are now opening and I was surprised and thought its not only known as The London Underground but also The speaking trains . . . Somebody from the queue said Sainsbury and I asked? Is this a town or city other than London or Manchester After arriving in the UK I found everyone who was already here as a philosopher and a high profile intellectual as they give me advise free of cost and they want to force their advise on me that I have to do it Next morning I was awoken by a call from The Police. They explained to me that they had fined my house mate ?30 due to riding through a No Entry and they retain the bike to check the ownership status as its been reported as stolen few months ago After 7 years one day I was sitting on my own, feeling alone, tired, and very stressed completely fed up with everything and I thought to go back home to visit my family and friends.
